

Man With a Thousand Voices Visits Again

Candy Candido and daughter, Flora, the little man with a thousand voices, visited Hope yesterday as Goodwill Ambassador representing the Louisiana State Fair now in progress at Shreveport. He had coffee with the Hope B & PW Club yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce office. While there Janet Butler, a Nike club member, showed Candy an enjoyable way to eat watermelon. Candy made a deal with the club that he will tell the world in his many travels about Hope, Ark., it friendly people and champion watermelons and pumpkins. In turn club members promised to publicize Roy Rogers and Dale Evans show playing its last three days at the Louisiana fair, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

club custodians—followed his lead and, on the advice of their attorneys, refused to give any information other than their names and addresses.

Meanwhile, the Army struck Woodruff's name from its list of command sergeants major. Although he will be removed from his current assignment at the White Sands Proving Ground, he will remain at the facility in New Mexico in a different capacity, retaining his rank and pay.

A Pentagon spokesman said it was too early to tell if Woodruff would be court-martialed.

Military investigators are following a web of allegations against Woodruff and others in a worldwide probe leading from Augsburg, Germany, to Ft. Benning, Ga., to Vietnam to the Pentagon itself.

"These hearings have produced testimony which indicates a serious betrayal of public trust by a small number of men," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., acting chairman of the Senate's investigations subcommittee.

He said senior sergeants took advantage of lax supervision and accounting and a tradition that GIs themselves should run their own clubs to conspire to "profit from the pockets of their fellow soldiers."

"They also realized they had a good thing going," Ribicoff said, citing the formation by the sergeants of a corporation through which they sold goods to clubs which they themselves ran.

"The implication is very strong you have been a discredit to the uniform you wear," Woodruff was told by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill. "Don't you realize what this investigation has done to the morale of the armed services? Isn't there anything you wish to say in your own defense?"

David L. Thomas, attorney for Woodruff and two other witnesses, explained that one cannot invoke the Fifth Amendment selectively. Once the decision has been made to rely on the constitutional protection, a witness can answer no questions, even harmless ones, he said.

Alongside Woodruff at the witness table were M. Sgt. William E. Higdon, and two retired sergeants, Narvaez Hatcher and Seymour Lazar. All refused to answer questions.

At the end of Thursday's long morning session—it was the hearing's 11th day—Ribicoff adjourned the subcommittee until further notice.

Contracts Up for Dierks Dam Projects

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Tulsa District of the Army Engineers says contracts will be awarded next June for relocation of the Bellah Mine Road in Sevier County at De Queen Dam and for the construction of the embankment, spillway, outlet works and project buildings at Dierks Dam.

Dierks Dam is being constructed on the Saline River about five miles northwest of Dierks. The overall project, which is about 15 per cent complete, will cost between $5 and $10 million.

De Queen Dam is being constructed on the Rolling Fork River about four miles northwest of De Queen. The project is about 40 per cent complete.

Incumbent Mayor to Be Challenged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Incumbent mayors with liberal reputations face stiff challenges for re-election Nov. 4 in New York City and Cleveland. New Jersey and Virginia voters will select new governors.

On the same date, voters will decide whether to give the vote to 19-year-olds in Ohio and 18-year-olds in New Jersey. Each of North Carolina's 100 counties will hold a local option vote on a proposed 1 per cent sales tax.

Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland, first Negro elected mayor of a large American city, and John V. Lindsay of New York City are relying on heavy support from independent voters as they seek a second term.

Says Scott Not the GOP Spokesman

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has acidly criticized the Vietnam cease-fire proposal of Sen. Hugh Scott, adding the Republican leader does not necessarily speak for his GOP colleagues.

It was the first flicker of conservative Republican restiveness since Scott, a self-described progressive, became GOP leader last month.

Goldwater noted Scott had said he was not in the habit of clearing his ideas in advance with the White House.

"I think it would be helpful if he would also state that he is not in the habit of clearing such statements with all members of his own political party in the Senate," Goldwater said.

In advancing the plan for a unilateral U.S. cease-fire, to remain effective unless the Communists violate it, Scott said he was offering a personal hope.

The Pentagon promptly rejected the idea, and so did Goldwater.

"I for one wish to make it very plain that while I recognize the senator from Pennsylvania has been duly selected minority leader of my party, I do not accept his personal recommendations on any and all subjects," Goldwater told the Senate.

Goldwater said unilateral action will merely convince the Communists we are afraid of them.

Scott, in Sharon, Pa., renewed the cease-fire call Thursday night.

"I hope that a cease-fire will be announced just as soon as it can be safely arranged," he said.

That speech was the latest in a series of almost nightly appearances at Republican fund raising dinners in Pennsylvania where Scott will seek re-election next year.

Scott won re-election in 1964 despite the crushing defeat of Goldwater, who was the Republican presidential nominee. He has a record of attracting Democratic and independent voters.

"In that regard, the minority leader's job is a mixed blessing," said another Pennsylvania GOP politician. "He's trying to accommodate the President, he's trying to accommodate his colleagues in the Senate, and he has to consider his constituency."

A crucial test in all three departments could be the confirmation vote on Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., President Nixon's choice for the Supreme Court.

Scott, who describes himself as undecided, is under heavy administration pressure to vote for confirmation, which would be a liability among labor and Negro voters in Pennsylvania.

The problem was compounded Thursday when Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, Scott's Republican colleague from Pennsylvania, announced his opposition to Haynsworth and accused the judge of violating judicial canons of ethics.

Pancake Supper Before Game Friday Night

At 5 p.m. Friday the local Kiwanis Club will begin serving hot pancakes, sausage, butter and syrup, or milk or coffee, for that's the time for the Annual Kiwanis Pancake Supper at the High School Cafeteria, immediately preceding the Hope-Magnolia Football Game.

Members of the local club will be doing the cooking, serving, and waiting on tables to see that your needs are met. President Kenneth Hamilton says that if there are any complaints bring them to him and he will take it up with the cooks or promptly forget them, but the cooks, servers, and waiters now have enough experience that there should be no complaints.

Funds from the pancake supper in the Fall and the variety show in the Spring are used for Kiwanis youth programs. K-Park, the High School Key Club, and City Park have all benefited to some extent from Kiwanis funds. However, the present project is the planning and promotion, along with other civic groups, of a new Youth or Community Center for Hope.

Hope area citizens have supported the Kiwanis Club in its Youth Programs through the years and Kiwanis Club members are sure of continued support.

Wants Voters to Speak Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Brandon of Little Rock, a delegate to the state Constitutional Convention, Thursday night urged voters to let their convention delegates know what they think about Arkansas' proposed constitution, particularly the idea of referring certain sections of the document for a separate vote.

"If you believe certain parts are so controversial they might force you to have to vote against all of the constitution, then speak up and ask your delegate to refer that part for a separate vote," Brandon said.

Industrial areas, sanitary sewer and access road work for the west area and access road improvement for the south site.

Among the firms announcing plans for hiring additional employees are: Standard Automotive Components, electrical device manufacturer, 164 new employees; Homestead Industries, mobile home producer 125 employees; Meyers Baker, 50 employees; G & S Manufacturing Co., Inc., log cutting equipment, 45 employees and Hope Wire Products, Inc., bedsprings and other wire goods, 20 employees.

The project also includes development of a new water field four miles north of Hope. The field will have three wells with a daily capacity of a million gallons, a 200,000-gallon storage tank, pump house and pumps.

Hope and Hempstead County are working to combat problems of low family income and a heavy outmigration of residents seeking job opportunities elsewhere.

At the last census, the county's median family income was $2,676, compared with the $5,000 national figure for the same period. The area's economy is based mainly on agriculture and timber.

Local development activities include the recently completed Red River Vocational-Technical School whose aim is to provide residents with the skills needed for jobs at the industrial plants attracted to the area and to enable employees to upgrade their skills for advancement.

The EDA grant announced today includes a $75,500 bonus because Hope and Hempstead County participate in the South West Economic Development District of Arkansas, a multi-county planning organization.

The city of Hope is providing $302,000 to complete the $755,000 project cost.

EDA was established under the Public Works and Economic Development Act to help create jobs and increase incomes in economically lagging areas by encouraging industrial development. In addition to public works grants and loans, the agency provides business development loans and technical and planning assistance.

minimum tax provisions in the House bill will be included in the Senate version.

They referred particularly to intangible drilling costs, the expenses of drilling oil and gas wells, which producers now are permitted to write off on their taxes entirely in the year incurred.

The Senate committee's decision to cut the oil and gas depletion allowance reversed an old policy and came as a shock to members from oil states.

A move to retain the current 27 1/2 per cent allowance lost on an 8-8 tie before the 23 per cent was approved.

Although the reduction was not as great as that voted by the House, it was hailed as a big victory by tax reform advocates.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who long has advocated a reduction to as low as 15 per cent, said the fight to achieve the lower figure undoubtedly would be renewed on the Senate floor.

Williams, senior Republican on Finance who also has fought for years to reduce the allowance, said he would like to see the Senate vote for the 20 per cent figure.

Williams said, however, he definitely would try to reverse on the floor the committee's decision not to reduce depletion allowances on any other minerals.

The House had voted to cut these by about the same 25 per cent that it slashed the oil and gas benefit.

of a more expensive brand?

You tell friends you are holding off from buying a color television set until the color gets better, when as a matter of fact you are doing so in the hope that the price will get lower?

If you see a pretty girl in a miniskirt approaching, is it difficult for you later to remember whether she had simple or wore glasses?

Is it your conviction that you are underpaid, but that three-fourths of the other guys in your office are getting twice what they're worth considering the little work they do.

Now and then wouldn't you like to make a pass at your neighbor's wife—if she were only a little prettier, and he was six inches shorter and 40 pounds lighter?

At least five times every Monday don't you wish you had the ready cash to flee home and job and get away from it all?

Those are the questions. Now to your box score.

If you answered "no" to more than five queries, you are a manic menace or a chronic liar.

But if you gave a resounding "yes" to all the queries, you are to be congratulated. You are normally neurotic, with just enough touches of livesaving paranoia to make you able to adjust healthily to the demands of a balmy world.

If you were any more normal, you would be abnormal.

Weather Is Expected to Get Cooler

Cool weather was expected to continue in Arkansas tonight and Saturday as a large high pressure system over Western Colorado exerts its control of weather in the state.

There is a slight chance of showers in the north half of the state tonight, but chances were to diminish by Saturday. The low tonight is expected to be in the 40s to low 50s.

A overcast layer of clouds got as far as Western Arkansas Thursday with some light rain in Eastern Oklahoma. However, the high pressure system took control and pushed the rain area back west of the state.

Clouds then moved over most of the state Thursday evening with the exception of the Eastern section.

Overnight lows included 38 at Blytheville and Memphis, 39 at Jonesboro and El Dorado, 41 at Harrison, 42 at Pine Bluff and Little Rock, 45 at Fayetteville and Fort Smith and 46 at Texarkana.

Questions Democratic Seriousness

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Jim Johnson of Conway said Thursday that he wondered whether the chairman of the state Democratic Party and the American Party of Arkansas are "seriously interested" in defeating Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller next year.

Johnson, a former Supreme Court Justice, said earlier in the week that he was considering becoming a Republican and running for governor next year in the Republican primary.

Walter Carruth of Lexa, chairman of the American party of Arkansas, said Thursday that Johnson had betrayed the principles for which George Wallace and the party stand.

"Good riddance is all I can say to the chance of him leaving," Carruth said. "As far as I'm concerned, he's already gone. It's the best thing that could have happened to the party—losing Jim Johnson."

Johnson said Carruth and Charles Matthews, chairman of the state Democratic party, had reacted hysterically to his announcement earlier in the week.

"They both are so preoccupied with making ridiculous charges against me, that what should be the real culprit, Rockefeller, avoids the fight without a scratch," Johnson said. "In 1966, when I was the Democratic nominee for governor, Mr. Matthews admits that he chose Rockefeller over me for that office, at a time when, he (Matthews), was a Democratic nominee for representative himself."

"I don't know what Carruth's up to, or who's putting him up to it," Johnson said. "I do know that his scuttling attempts to destroy me must be pleasing to Mr. Rockefeller and any other political enemies."

SUE BETH HARDEN ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Linkletter Receiving Many Letters

By GENE HANDSAKER

Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A letter from Magnolia, Ill., said,

"On Memorial Day I buried my 20-year-old son. He, too, was murdered by LSD..."

From Honolulu: "May the youngsters of this world take heed of your brave and magnificent words..."

From Richmond, Calif.: "You have brought me and my family many hours of smiles and happiness. What can we do for you now?"

Such is the mail pouring in for television star Art Linkletter—25,000 letters in the last 10 days, he told President Nixon and congressional leaders Thursday—after his daughter Diane's death.

Twenty-year-old Diane, youngest of his five children, died Oct. 4 in a plunge from the kitchen window of her sixth-floor apartment.

From rich and poor, young and old, prominent citizens and obscure, the letters to Linkletter express sympathy, sorrow, concern—and admiration for his forthright blaming of LSD immediately after the tragedy.

"What a fine person you are, to make the story known to all of us who have young people in our homes," says a letter from Columbus, Ohio.

Some letters, telegrams and telephone calls request speaking engagements. Some letters say, "God bless you," or "tell me what I can do to help" with the drug problem.

Some say, "Please write to my son." These are from parents who know their children are involved with drugs but don't know what to do.

"Frankly, I can't tell them what to do because I don't know," Linkletter, 57, told the two-hour White House meeting on the President's proposals dealing with the drug problem. Linkletter said at the meeting that his daughter "leaped to her death in a depressed state from bad LSD trips six months before... She thought she was losing her mind."

He urged that an educational program be aimed at both parents and pupils beginning in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

In Hollywood, meanwhile, three secretaries continued opening and answering the letters. Some are from college officials, ministers, bankers, doctors, lawyers, judges. All the letters express sympathy.

Anxious parents included one in Chicago: "Please advise me what course to follow as I'm so worried and fearful of my daughter's future."

San Diego: "I have lost two children to dope, a son and a daughter. They are still alive in body, but I know they have no conscious life left."

San Antonio, Tex.: "My 27-year-old son is taking some kind of narcotics. It caused my husband to die of a heart attack."

Panorama City, Calif.: "My son's last downfall was an overdose of LSD... This boy is what they term a vegetable, totally disabled, only 25 years old and finished."

Other letters have a religious tone.

Charleston, S.C.: "Perhaps Diane's death is God's way of calling you to accept the great challenge of your life."

A fourth grader, Astoria, Long Island: "We in our class offered prayers for your family and especially Diane... You always loved children and made them happy."

Many letters express admiration for Linkletter.

San Angelo, Tex.: "Your courage and integrity in exposing the cause of this loss is appreciated and admired by all of us who are concerned with the drug abuse problem..."

Indianapolis: "With all my talking, all my pleading to warn my four children of the dangers—it surely has meant more coming from you."

Mays Landing, N.J.: "If anyone can get to the kids, it's you."

Greatest distance between any two points in the United States is the 5,850 miles from Elliott Key, Fla., to Hawaii's Kure Island.

Liberal Bishops Are Meeting Resistance

By EDWARD MAGRI

Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The liberal bishops at the Roman Catholic synod are making most of the headlines but the conservatives are fighting hard.

The synod resounds with demands that the bishops get more voice in the governing of the Church, but prelates from such diverse places as the Vatican Curia, new African nations and Communist Poland have been sounding persistent notes of caution.

Dino Cardinal Staffa of the Curia, for example, had a sharp verbal clash last week with Belgian Cardinal Leo Suenens, the most outspoken liberal in the meeting.

Cardinal Staffa, 63, brushed off the idea of any changes as unwise and took time out to complain that too many bishops used poor Latin in addressing the synod.

The only American in the Curia's top echelon, John Cardinal Wright, cautioned the bishops against demanding too much independence for national churches. He warned of a "danger of nationalistic division for Catholicism" and cited the 16th century schism that produced the Church of England.

Some prelates from outside the Vatican oppose any sharing of the Pope's powers with the bishops because they feel a strong Pope is better for them back home.

Leon Etienne Cardinal Duval of Algiers said that with decentralization bishops in underdeveloped countries might fall under the domination of those in industrial nations.

These sources say Thieu has given assurances his troops will do their best to replace the bulk of the 500,000-man American force by the end of 1970—with two major sets of circumstances influencing the pace of the program to switching the battle burden to the South Vietnamese.

According to this schedule: —If the enemy maintains the present combat lull and if the Vietnamese forces get quicker training, it may be possible for the United States to withdraw men at the rate of 20,000 a month.

—If the enemy steps up attacks or if there is a slowdown in the training of Vietnamese forces, the withdrawal pace would be slowed.

Given the continued lull and the swift training of South Vietnamese fighting men, Nixon could pull out a total 300,000 Americans by the end of 1970—including the 60,000 already ordered home.

The Asian sources say it would be difficult for South Vietnam to stick to the schedule—but the South Vietnamese are determined to do their best to meet the target.

The sources report the problem is not of figures but one of good will to go along with replacement policy.

Withdrawal Agreement, Report Says

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asian diplomatic sources say there are strong indications a private understanding has been reached between President Nixon and South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu on a timetable for withdrawing American troops from Vietnam.

These sources say Thieu has given assurances his troops will do their best to replace the bulk of the 500,000-man American force by the end of 1970—with two major sets of circumstances influencing the pace of the program to switching the battle burden to the South Vietnamese.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Jones, the Welsh singer, is one of Britain's singing idols, a recording star and a smash in American nightclubs from East to West Coast. The mystery, perhaps, is why Tom Jones' ABC variety hour is at best a fair to middling success.

The answer, still perhaps, is that Jones' personality comes across footlights better than through a camera, and that he seems slightly uncomfortable in television, restrained by cue cards and able to cut loose in his own style only once or twice in his hour.

In Thursday night's show, Jones seemed completely relaxed only in his solo spot, shouting a song while surrounded by squealing teen-agers.

The hour is a handsome production, full of rich sound and dotted with interludes of the usual guest stars doing their usual things. On Thursday, it was Jose Feliciano and Shelley Berman, who did a comedy bit risque by TV standards.

Jones, who seems slimmed down and smoothed up this season, has his own way with a song—moving a lot and apparently singing at the top of his voice. He is at his worst reading his lines in the mandatory badinage between star and guest.

The show's stiffness is particularly evident when compared with the easy-mannered variety program that follows on NBC—Dean Martin's show. The difference seems to be that the first show seeks to electrify the viewer while Martin and company invite him to relax.

It would be interesting to know how many of the singing Welshman's fans, under some misapprehension, tune in Saturday night's NBC broadcast of "Tom Jones," a lusty, bawling period piece that viewers of the movie in 1963 never dreamed could ever be broadcast.

The singing Tom Jones, born Tom Woodward, borrowed his stage name when the adaptation of Henry Fielding's novel of 18th century England became such a hit.

The movie, a multi-Oscar winner, may appear on the small screen with some of its more daring sequences pruned. NBC policy prevents preliminary revelations of the censor's scissors work.

NBC spokesmen say that while Judy Carne has left "Laugh-In" for eastern theatre work, her contract with the show runs through this season and that bits in which she appears have been stockpiled. Thus she still will appear in the weekly show—and when they run out of Carne bits she is expected to return to Hollywood and turn out another batch.

Panthers Meet Hope Here Tonight

Cross your fingers and Hope. The Bobcats entertain the Magnolia Panthers in Hammond Stadium tonight at 7:30 p.m.

A pre-game ceremony will honor 50 years of Bobcat football teams, including Coach Hugh Clark and members of that first team in 1919-1920.

The eras of Hope High School, from the first Bobcats through the glory years with Coach Foy Hammons and up to the present, should be well represented by the Hope-Magnolia clash tonight.

Both teams are coming off disappointing defeats (Fairview lost 29-0, Arkadelphia lost 25-0) and look to this one as a turning point.

Camden dealt the Panthers their other loss of a 4-2 record in a 20-19 shocker, using a multitude of good backs to end the Magnolia 16-game winning streak.

You can wager that both teams will be keyed to a high pitch, even though the two have important games next Friday (Magnolia plays Fairview, Hope goes to Camden).

The key factor will simply be mistakes, which have already cost the Cats and the Panthers two defeats, all of which hurt mentally. Both defenses could dominate and force the game into a low-scoring battle, or the offenses could come of age and tear loose for a big night scoring-wise.

Don't count on it. Hope remembers the losing feeling much worse; last week's defeat was a 4-AA Western Divisional battle. On the other hand, the Panthers weren't as stunned by losing to already unbeaten Arkadelphia.

Fans can get ready for a hard-hitting game to be decided by the big third down plays and maybe a break or two. Neither team will roll, but when the dust clears the Bobcats will be on top 14-13 and Magnolia will take the role of the sufferer after cramming everything down Hope teams' throats for too long.

The kickoff could be delayed a while by the pre-game activities honoring those first Bobcats, but KXAR will begin broadcasting live with the Pre-Game Show at about 7 p.m.

Pine Bluff in Victory Over Horace Mann

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pine Bluff's Keith Raymick plunged one yard for a touchdown with 57 seconds remaining that gave the Zebras a 22-18 victory over Little Rock Horace Mann Thursday night at Little Rock.

Raymick's run came on fourth down. It was Pine Bluff's first Class AAAA conference victory of the season.

Two touchdown passes by Edmond Burt and a 12-yard run by Johnny Bradford with 7:35 remaining in the game had given Mann the lead.

Magnolia Cubs Beat Bobkittens

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Scoring-wise, it was decided at halftime, but the Magnolia Panther Cubs held on to defeat the Yerger Junior Bobkittens 24-12 last night at Magnolia.

Fairview will wrap up the Kittens' schedule next Thursday night, and four losses now have lowered Yerger's season 3-4. However, Coach Gaylord Solomon called the Cubs "the best team we have played all year," and he was happy with his team's effort.

Actually it was passing that won for Magnolia, held to 79 yards on the ground, and QB Ken Barker's aerials accounted for the Cubs' three TD's.

Yerger got on the board first, as halfback David Johnson took a punt and scampered 82 yards to paydirt before Hope had run an offensive play. The extra-point was missed, leaving it at 6-0.

Magnolia came right back with Barker hitting freshman end Marvin Lindsey on a 70-yard scoring bomb to tie it up. Garrett Smith ran the PAT, though, and the Cubs had an 8-6 margin.

The Kittens came back to score next, with an impressive overland drive covering most of the field. Fullback David Huddleston crashed over from eight yards out for the tally, but the missed conversion left Yerger's lead at 12-8.

Now Barker cranked up again, and found Rusty Adams behind everyone for a 31-yard TD, after which Smith ran in his second two-pointer for a 16-12 lead.

Long passes set up the final score, a Barker pass of 15 yards to end Andy Rogers, and the Cubs had their 24-12 lead at the half.

Neither team was a potent afterward, with no real long-gainers until Yerger QB Buddy Ingram hit Johnson with a pass for a 55-yard gain on the game's final play.

Defensively, Kittens standing out included Richard Kennedy, Jimmy Smith, Melvin Weston, and Benny O'Neal, but Magnolia had the advantage of starting only two players both offensively and defensively. On the other hand, Yerger has been starting quite a few on both units.

David Johnson led Yerger with 12 carries for 57 yards, and Huddleston added 40 more on eight runs. Ricky Hart was the top receiver with two for 30 yards. Tommy Jackson ran 17 times for 75 yards to lead the Cubs, and Lindsey snared three passes for 112 yards.

should have an equally easy time with sputtering Wichita State.

Unbeaten Missouri will o trying to protect its share of the Big Eight lead against Colorado, 3-2 over-all. Surprising leader Kansas State, 2-1 and 4-1, will try to end 3½ decades of losing to the Sooners.

Kansas State, for years the Big Eight doormat, hasn't beaten Oklahoma for 35 years. In fact, the closest the Wildcats have come in the past 30 years was a 17-6 loss in 1961.

Penn State is a solid favorite to extend its winning streak to six against Ohio U., and Louisiana State is just a slight favorite to match that string against stubborn Auburn, 4-1, in a vital Southeastern Conference match.

Figures the Outcome of State Games

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Classifying Wichita State as a breather is a no-no as far as Arkansas coach Frank Broyles is concerned.

Broyles still remembers the Razorbacks' 10-0 team of 1964 having to go all out for a 17-0 victory over the Wheatshockers.

The fourth-ranked Razorbacks are an overwhelming favorite to make the Wheatshockers their fifth straight victim Saturday at Little Rock and, for the second time this year, there is no betting line on an Arkansas game.

The oddsmakers also refused to establish a line on Tulsa, which Arkansas beat 55-0.

Broyles says John Eichler, a fifth-year senior from Stuttgart, will start at quarterback in place of Bill Montgomery.

Montgomery, who guided the Razorbacks to a 10-1 season last year, is being held out to allow rib and thigh injuries to heal.

Eichler was a sophomore starter in 1967, but broke an ankle and played behind Montgomery last year.

Arkansas' passing game may be below par because of the absence of flanker Chuck Dicus, who received a shoulder injury in the Baylor game.

However, the Arkansas defense and the running of tailback Bill Burnett and fullback Bruce Maxwell should be enough to carry the Porkers.

ARKANSAS 38, WICHITA STATE 7.

Arkansas State University takes on Abilene Christian College at Jonesboro Saturday in an important Southland Conference contest.

ASU is 3-1 for the season and ACC is 5-0. The two teams played to a 17-17 tie last year, but ASU went on to capture the conference title.

Abilene is led by quarterback Jim Lindsey who has completed 101 of 197 for 1,347 yards and eight touchdowns.

Abilene tends to give up points. ASU may have more balance. ASU 28, ABILENE CHRISTIAN 21.

At Searcy, the surprising Harding Bisons will take on Ouachita with at least a share of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference lead at stake.

Harding, which didn't win a conference game in 1967 or 1968, is 2-0 in conference play as is Ouachita. The Tigers may be the first team to realize beforehand that the Bisons are for real.

Expansion Club Gets Tougher

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Hockey League's Eastern Division teams used to skate figure eights around the expansion clubs in the Western Division, but so far this season the Old Guarders have found the going a little tougher.

The Detroit Red Wings had to come from behind Thursday to finish in a 2-2 tie with the Philadelphia Flyers.

And the tying score came on a disputed goal at 15:05 of the second period.

Center Gary Unger was credited with the goal when referee Art Skov ruled that Flyer goalie Bernie Parent had pushed the puck across the goal line.

"It was a loose puck, no question about it," said Flyers' captain Ed Van Impe, who was on top of the play. "It was lying right on the goal line and I was afraid it would go over, so I shoved it into Bernie's pads. I swear it never crossed the line."

Skov said the puck crossed the line before Van Impe made his move.

The rest of the scoring came on power plays. Detroit's Nick Libett got the Red Wings in front with a first period goal.

The Flyers' scores came in the second period on shots by Bill Sutherland and Andre Lacroix.

Miami 21, Buffalo 20 — Winless this move.

Philadelphia 20 New Orleans 17 — Saints are overdue in game between clubs with so-so offenses and leaky defense.

Billy Kilmer vs. Norm Snead and anything can happen with poor pass rush and vulnerable secondary. Andy Livingston double threat for Saints as runner and receiver. Home edge to Eagles with Snead doing the job.

Green Bay 24, Atlanta 14 — Unless Packers are shell shocked after visit to Coast, they should handle perky Falcons who upset 49ers last week. Atlanta quarterback has been dumped 20 times and Falcons have bagged enemy only four times. Look for Atlanta to try to run on Pack.

Washington 31, Pittsburgh 20 — Redskins aren't supposed to be in the race but they're clinging to Cowboys' heels. Seventh straight over Steelers may come hard at Pittsburgh with Roy Jefferson a real threat. Sonny Jurgensen should do it again and Charley Taylor had better not drop another in the open.

Baltimore 27, San Francisco 14 — Colts haven't lost to 49ers since 1962 and this will be 14th straight. John Unitas showed best form in two years against New Orleans last week. The 49ers can't seem to get out of their own way and are thinking of shifting to Steve Spurrier.

Thinks Some Pro Teams to Get Revenge

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland and Minnesota should take giant strides toward their divisional titles this week. Los Angeles and Dallas should remain undefeated and Kansas City should get revenge for that upset in Cincinnati.

With the World Series finally out of the way, the American Football League reaches the half-way point this Sunday and the National Football League, which started a week late, will have finished six of its 14-game schedule.

Form ran true last week for a 11-2 record (7-1 in the NFL and 4-1 in the AFL). Let's try once more. All games are Sunday unless otherwise indicated.

NFL

Minnesota 31, Detroit 17 — Vikings are red hot with four straight wins and Joe Kapp is having his best year. Both teams tough on defense but loss of Bill Munson and Mel Farr tough blow to Lions' offense right when they are needed most. Vikings won both games in 1968 and have allowed only seven touchdowns in five games.

Cleveland 27, St. Louis 17 — The Browns can open up a three-game edge on Cards and get even for two 1968 defeats by knocking off Cards who still have quarterback problems.

Leroy Killy and Ron Johnson rolling as powerful ground tandem. Should be good battle between Card pass rushers who have dumped the quarterback 24 times and Browns' pass blockers who have let their passer get sacked only five times.

Los Angeles 28, Chicago 10 — George Halas won't greet George Allen with open arms and the Rams must beware of walking into a trap. Bears must be desperate when they talk of benching Gale Sayers but offense has scored only 48 points in five games. Bears won 17-16 last year in Los Angeles. Roman Gabriel may find defense tough to crash. Les Josephson and Larry Smith should run on Bears.

Philadelphia 20 New Orleans 17 — Saints are overdue in game between clubs with so-so offenses and leaky defense.

Eichler to Start Game Saturday

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Eichler, a senior quarterback who hasn't started a game since the 1967 season, will be calling signals Saturday when the fourth-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks take on Wichita State at Little Rock.

Eichler will be subbing for Bill Montgomery, the outstanding junior who guided the Razorbacks to a 10-1 season. Montgomery is nursing rib and thigh injuries.

"We have a lot of confidence in Eichler," said coach Frank Broyles. "He has thrown with accuracy all fall and has shown a lot of confidence."

"He has had outstanding practices all week," Broyles said. "His passing has been equal to any we've ever had on the practice field."

Broyles says the Razorbacks will try to throw more Saturday than they did in the first four games. However, flanker Chuck Dicus, who is closing in on the Arkansas career record is not expected to play. He suffered a shoulder injury two weeks ago against Baylor.

One reason for the Razorbacks' passing plans is the Wichita State defense.

"They blitz on defense practically every down, more than any team we've played," Broyles said. "They are a gambling-type football team. They are gambling to create mistakes, and we've got to work to keep from making those mistakes."

Broyles said the Arkansas defense, which is the nation's best against scoring, would have to be ready to react to a number of offensive formations.

"They used 11 formations in one half," he said. "They have the most varied offense we have ever faced. They have given us a great deal of concern in practice all week."

Ironically, Wichita State will be Arkansas' first opponent that has won a game.

Oklahoma State and Tulsa opened their seasons against the Razorbacks, who met TCU and Baylor when they were winless.

Wichita State opened its season with a 17-7 victory over Utah State and then dropped five in a row.

Because of the rescheduling of the Texas game for Dec. 6, the Razorbacks were idle last week.

Dolphins have been playing it tough, bowing to Kansas City only by 17-10 margin. Bills were lucky 50-21 loss at Oakland wasn't even worse. Bob Griese has only four TD passes and something is rotten in the Orange Bowl.

Kansas City 24, Cincinnati 14 — Chiefs have lost only once and that to Bengals 24-19 in Sept. 28 first meeting. Sam Wyche took Cincy in after Greg Cook was hurt. Kansas City won exhibition game 23-7 Aug. 16 at Jackson, Miss.

Oakland 27, San Diego 20 — Injury to Gary Garrison will permit Raiders to double up on Lance Alworth. Daryle Lamoni warmed up with six touchdowns passes against Buffalo in first half. Two clubs split last year and Chargers won Aug. 15 expedition, 10-7.

Houston 17, Denver 14 — Broncos have better scoring punch. Oilers play it rugged on defense. Houston gets edge in AstroDome although it will be playing second game within week, losing at New York Monday night.

New York 27, Boston 14 — Another rematch. First game was switched to Boston because of Mets' baseball schedule. Jets won it 23-14 despite special defense devised by Clice Rush, ex-Jet assistant now head man at Boston. Jets have taken last six from Pats.

Cowboys Win Without 16 Players

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — The University of Wyoming, 16th-ranked among the nation's college football teams, made final preparations for its last home game of the season today under a cloud of controversy after the suspension of 14 black athletes for taking part in a protest demonstration.

With a 5-0 record, the Cowboys are already assured of another non-losing season under Coach Lloyd Eaton, an eight-year veteran at Wyoming who has driven his team into national prominence.

Eaton suspended the 14 players last week for taking part in a demonstration against Brigham Young University, their Saturday opponent. The players charged BYU with racism because it is operated by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) which the players said banned Negroes from advancement.

Saturday, Wyoming hosts San Jose State in a homecoming game.

San Jose Coach Joe McMullen said Thursday he was confident all his players would be in action against the Cowboys, despite some requests that they boycott the game in sympathy with the black athletes.

"At the time, there had been no mention of picketing," McMullen said after a team meeting. "But I trust there is no difference in the team's attitude then and now."

The first Negro to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize was Dr. Ralph Bunche, in 1950.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily Jan. 1, 1920, by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
—but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.

1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929—C. E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957—Following Mrs. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president —balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

Opening lead—♠ 10

Reese and Dormer point out that, in rubber bridge, you should play for your contract. If it appears safe, then see what you can do about making the hand against bad breaks. On the other hand, if you need good breaks to make it, then place the adverse cards where you need them.

Playing at three no-trump,
South is looking at eight top-card tricks. He can find a ninth trick in either hearts or clubs but the logical place to go after it will be in diamonds.

He probably will win the first spade because there is little reason to hold off. Then he will go after the diamond suit. A careless player will take his ace of diamonds and lead a diamond to dummy's king. East will show out and the careless player will find that his ninth trick is not going to come easily from the diamond suit.

If he puts in enough study,
he may work out some method of throwing West in with a club and forcing a diamond lead but all that requires a lot of brain work and careless players aren't likely to find that sort of play.

A careful player will stop before playing from dummy to the second diamond trick.
He will note that four diamond tricks are all he needs for three no-trump and he will see that the play of the 10-spot from dummy assures these four diamond tricks.

He may lose an unnecessary trick to an unguarded jack in the East hand but that trick will represent the difference between three and four no-trump, not between three no-trump and down one.

What do you do now?

A—You might make an underbid of three spades or an overbid of three spades but,
with an alert partner, you should bid two hearts and tell him that your minimum hand has improved a great deal.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid two hearts and your partner bids three diamonds. What do you do now?

Travel Law Probe Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A survey to determine whether there have been extensive violations of state travel laws and regulations by state employees will begin next week.

Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department, said about 1 per cent of the expense vouchers filed since July 1 would be sampled.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked for the random sampling, which is to cover all state agencies.

Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock had requested an investigation of all expense vouchers filed by state Revenue Department employees since 1966

LETTERS To The Editor

This your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address, so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

Editor The Star: We are writing to tell of the wonderful hour we spent with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kent.

First, I will tell you who we are—five couples who have been close friends for 33 years and for the last six years have been taken vacations together. When we travel by car the men are in one car, the women in the other. Names are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wells, Angola, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Huss, Fremont, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Wade Foster, Fremont, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Penner, Ray, Inc. and Mr. and Mrs. Emery Kaufmann, Montogomery, Mich.

We had seen the large watermelon dropped on TV and had read in the newspaper of the one sent to President Nixon, so on Friday, Oct. 17 when we drove near Hope we called Mrs. Kent and she graciously invited us to come.

Mr. Kent had just returned from a TV program and showed us the melon he had taken with him. We were taken to see the melon garden and ate melons—three red and three yellow, the first yellow we had eaten. We saw the large chicken house and the feed room, the pecan trees, and the new floor they were making for the porch. Each couple was given the "Hope Star" dated Oct. 7, 1969.

Thank you Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kent for the fine time spent with you. Sincerely yours,

MRS. EMERY KAUFMANN

Rockefeller Confident He Can Win

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller says he is confident he can win the Republican primary next year if his opponent is Jim Johnson.

The governor, who has not said for certain whether he would seek a third term, made the statement Thursday.

Johnson said earlier this week that he was considering opposing Rockefeller in the Republican primary. Johnson was the Democratic gubernatorial nominee in 1966, the year Rockefeller won his first term.

Rockefeller said most of Johnson's strength comes from persons who vote in the Democratic primaries, then support Rockefeller in the general election.

"I don't believe he will (be a threat) because I don't think the people in the state of Arkansas, whether they vote in the primary or whether they are mad at me will vote for a man who is as vacillating," Rockefeller said.

Army Trying to Plug a Legal Dike

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Horrified Army lawyers are scrambling to plug an apparent hole in the legal dike against conflict of interest actions by enlisted men.

The hole has been there for some time, but the lawyers evidently did not realize it until they became concerned with graft allegations against a group of sergeants involved in operations of service clubs.

What it boils down to is this: The Army's regulations barring conflicts between private interests and official duties do cover enlisted men.

But officials say the federal laws on which those Army regulations are based do not apply to enlisted personnel.

Therefore, there is a big question in the minds of Army lawyers as to whether the conflict of interest regulation can be enforced against men below commission rank.

Army sources said Congress may be asked to close the breach.

But officials indicated the patchjob probably would not permit disciplinary action for past conflict of interest misconduct, only against future offenses.

However, Army authorities said there are other clearly valid regulations and laws that could be brought into force for offenses other than possible conflicts of interest.

The Senate investigations subcommittee has heard testimony from one of its investigators alleging that four veteran Army sergeants had financial interests in a firm which did most of its business with servicemen's clubs in Vietnam.

The four Thursday invoked the Fifth Amendment as a safeguard against self-incrimination repeatedly in refusing to answer questions about alleged irregularities.

What the Nation Reads

According to Editor and Publisher, the five best-selling magazines in the nation are TV Guide, Playboy, Woman's Day, Family Circle and The National Enquirer.

The Enquirer just replaced The Reader's Digest, in the fifth spot. Does this slight shift imply the nation is getting less patriotic, scientific and heroic, less enamored of mother, home and selfless deeds? Does this slight decline mean that Edgar Guest, Horatio Alger, Poor Richard and Arrowsmith are not the viable ghosts they have been?

Well, reading is a private matter for the public. You pay your nickel or your dollar and you take your choice. But aside from Playboy, whose principal attraction is photogenic girls, none of the five qualifies remotely as a literary magazine. Playboy runs some top-flight short stories by outstanding authors and by able beginners. While some of Playboy's long interviews attack many problems, none of the top five has any basic literary, artistic, philosophical or dramatic concepts. None of the five is concerned with aesthetics, linguistics or humanities.

With the possible exception of Playboy, none of the five is concerned with the true learning process. Perhaps TV is supposed to supply the missing weight. Perhaps, even, the whole thing is a mere bagatelle, but the millions of parents who read these best-selling magazines are the same people who yell so loud for quality education. — Raleigh (N. C.) Tramp, Tramp, Tramp...

Rarely now do we hear men standing around the bar at the American Legion, telling how they survived the mustard gas attack on the Western Front in '18.

One reason might be that the doughboys of World War I — the 1.6 million of them left — now average 74.7 years in age. It's hard now to get the foot on to the bar rail, and that old mustard gas story has been embellished so many times few believe it any more. But these fellows are still youngsters compared to the 6,000 Spanish American War veterans still around, according to the Veterans Administration. Their average age is 90.3.

To the vast majority of present-day Americans these wars are ancient history. But to many million World War II and the Korean Conflict seem like they happened just yesterday. It may come as a bit of a shock then to realize that the average age of the 14.6 million World War II veterans is rapidly approaching 50 — it's 49.7 to be exact. And the 5.8 million that saw service during the Korean affair have now suffered the trauma of passing 40.

Well, as they say, time marches on, but the step gets less quick and more ragged. You "boys" better think twice before you try to impress the sweet young thing in the office with your war stories. In telling them, you'll be telling your age. Columbia (S. C.) State

No Test Was Required on 680 Additives

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has approved 680 everyday food additives now on the market without requiring laboratory tests for safety.

There was one more on a special government exempt list until the artificial sweetener cyclamate was banned last week for causing cancer in animals. The additives, ranging from the well-known flavor enhancer monosodium glutamate—MSG—to the little-known food preservative butylated hydroxytoluene, occupy a special government list sanctioning general use.

Substances on the list—some of them century-old cooking aids such as spices — enjoy congressional exemption from animal safety tests required for approval of most new additives. While the safety of most additives on the list has never been seriously challenged, cyclamates were on the market for 17 years before tests showed they caused cancer in rats.

A manufacturer may on his own initiative add a substance to the list.

Some Ask If World Is Wackier or If They Are Out of Kilter

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — How normal are you?

This is a question many people are asking themselves today in a world which seems to get wackier by the hour.

They wonder whether it is they who are getting daffy or merely the time in which they live that is out of kilter.

Too much worrying about the problem can be dangerous as well as confusing. After all, a fellow might go off his rocker brooding over whether he has already gone off his rocker.

Fortunately, it is fairly easy through a little self-examination to tell if you still have all or most of your marbles.

Just ask yourself the following questions:

Can you name three vital differences between your mother-in-law and the Loch Ness Monster?

Would you rather inherit a fortune than earn one on your own?

McCormack Tied to Tax Evasion Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Life magazine charges that a Washington lobbyist received $5,000 in cash to wield influence in a tax evasion case while sitting in House Speaker John W. McCormack's chair in the speaker's private office. McCormack was not present at the time, Life says.

The Life article also describes several other alleged fixes and fix attempts involving both the lobbyist and McCormack's suspended chief aide and claims "the evidence is that McCormack was more than naively involved in whatever took place in his office."

Life, in the article written by William Lambert to appear in the Oct. 31 edition, identifies the lobbyist and alleged fixer as Nathan Voloshen, a 71-year-old "purported lawyer in Maryland who is a close friend of the speaker."

Both Voloshen and Dr. Martin Sweig, whom McCormack suspended last week as his administrative assistant, are currently targets of a Securities and Exchange Commission complaint.

The article said that Dr. Irving Helfert, a Dayton, Ohio, urologist accused of evading more than $300,000 in federal taxes, counted on the $5,000 in cash in McCormack's office and handed it to Voloshen.

"Voloshen said he would mail Helfert a receipt, and the doctor would be hearing from him," Lambert wrote. "But he never did. The doctor was convicted, fined $15,000 and given a suspended jail sentence."

Neither McCormack nor Voloshen was immediately available for comment on the article.

Oil Allowance Cut, Group Turns to Rich

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee, after a surprise vote to cut the oil depletion allowance to 23 per cent, moved on today to proposals for a minimum tax on the wealthy.

Committee members agreed on a new depletion allowance figure Thursday after narrowly rejecting efforts to retain the current 27 1/2 per cent exemption but refused to go as far as the House tax reform bill which would slash it to 20 per cent.

The committee action would raise taxes on the oil industry by an estimated $155 million. The House figure would bring in more than $300 million.

Up for consideration before the Senate committee today were provisions to make certain that all wealthy persons pay at least some federal income tax.

Sens. John J. Williams, R-Del., and Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said they would try to see that oil income excluded under the

Sergeants Invoke 5th Amendment

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Phase One of a Senate conspiracy probe that shook the Army from GI to general has ended in a wave of Fifth Amendment responses from witnesses who refused to answer questions about alleged multimillion-dollar graft operations.

Phase Two, a public airing of large-scale black market and currency manipulation rackets in South Vietnam, is next on the agenda.

The Fifth Amendment was invoked 114 times Thursday 38 times by William O. Woodbridge, a sad-faced, 47-year-old sergeant major who used to be the Army's top-ranking enlisted man.

As television lights reflected from the five rows of decorations on his green uniform, Woodbridge refused repeatedly to defend himself from allegations he profited from funds stolen from noncommissioned officers' clubs, took kickbacks and payoffs, and received checks from a secret Swiss bank account bearing the code name "FISHHEAD."

Hadfield Bows to WR and Quits Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — O.D. Hadfield Jr., of Little Rock, executive secretary of the Arkansas Real Estate Commission for 17 years, bowed to a demand by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and resigned Thursday night.

Rockefeller asked Thursday that a special meeting of the commission be called to obtain the immediate resignation of Hadfield.

The governor said Hadfield minoplated the code of ethics he had set out earlier in the year and that he had "shown a conflict of interest."

The commission is scheduled to meet this afternoon, but Hadfield presented his resignation to commission members Thursday night.

"I am acceding to the desires of the governor, but I did not violate any code of ethics nor have I committed any wrongdoing," Hadfield said in a prepared statement.

Rockefeller said he wanted the resignation of Hadfield as a result of his "investigation and observations" over the last few months and information brought to light last week during a session of the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee.

At the session, Hadfield told the committee that about $56,000 in commission funds were invested in the American Security Savings and Loan Association of Little Rock. Hadfield said he was a stockholder and director of the association.

6,000 Planes Have Been Lost in War

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that American aircraft losses in Vietnam have reached 6,000, representing an estimated $6 billion.

A list of aircraft losses shows 3,114 helicopters of half a dozen types and 2,886 fixed-wing aircraft including fighter-bombers and transports lost in North and South Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

The summary said 1,353 helicopters had been destroyed by enemy gunners across South Vietnam and 10 shot down over North Vietnam. Another 1,751 helicopters have been lost to such other causes as rocket, mortar and ground attacks, collisions in the air and mechanical trouble.

In the fixed-wing category, 921 planes were shot down over North Vietnam and 392 over South Vietnam. The summary said 1,573 planes were lost due to all other causes.

Military spokesmen said there are now about 3,500 U.S. helicopters and more than 1,000 fixed-wing planes operating from bases in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command also announced that the American soldier who returned Monday after being a captive of North Vietnamese troops for 4 1/2 months was freed by his captors. A spokesman said Pfc. Jesse B. Harris Jr., 20, of Port Chester, N.Y., told officers at the Long Binh hospital he was released and did not escape.

Harris walked into an allied base 51 miles south of Da Nang on Monday. He was suffering from malaria and a slight wound in the right arm and is expected to leave for the United States in a week.

The spokesman said he had no information on why the enemy freed Harris.

The lull in the Vietnam war completed its seventh week today, but the U.S. Command reported slightly increased enemy activity along the Cambodian and Laotian borders.

Responding to the possibility that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are positioning troops for a winter-spring campaign, U.S. B52s attacked enemy staging areas 78 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border and infiltration corridors leading from Laos into the A Shau Valley west of Da Nang.

U.S. reconnaissance patrols and Navy patrol boats screening infiltration routes near Saigon killed 50 enemy soldiers in half a dozen small skirmishes and reported one American killed.

"There are definite indications the enemy is preparing to resume his offensive activity," one official source said. "The timing is uncertain. He is preparing to give himself the option of launching a winter-spring
